The Texas Association of School Boards has elected Corinne French of Valley View Independent School District to a three-year term on the TASB board of directors, a TASB press release announced.

French will represent TASB Region 11, position D, according to the press release.

She was appointed to the Valley View ISD board in 2012, then was elected in 2013 and ran unopposed in 2016. She is currently the local school board's vice president.

French is a 2015 Leadership TASB graduate and has served as a member of the TASB Legislative Advisory Council, according to the release. She holds a Bachelor of Science degree in family sciences from Texas Woman's University and a master's degree in higher education from the University of North Texas.

French is employed at UNT coordinating district involvement with the Eagle Advantage program. She plans on-campus transition programs for high school juniors and seniors and facilitates college transition workshops in local high schools, according to the release.

She serves as the advisor for the student organization Her Campus UNT. French also serves on the NTRP-16 Council and the executive board of the North Texas Area Association of School Boards.

TASB is a nonprofit association established in 1949 to serve local public school boards. The districts that member school boards represent serve more than 5.3 million students.
